

Remembering 2020

There's a lot that happened in 2020. What will you remember? You can use this form to capture some of your memories. Share with friends and family to collect their memories as well. Put them away for a few years and pull them out sometime in the future.

When 2020 started, before I knew anything about COVID-19, I felt _____.

I looked forward to _____.

In March, when we knew for sure that the pandemic was a serious threat and many cities and states imposed "shelter in place" orders, I felt _____.

When washing hands thoroughly became a priority I learned to wash my hands really well, by singing _____.

The three things I missed the most:

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

My work/school routine changed quickly. Suddenly I had to

_____, _____, and _____.

When things got especially stressful, it helped me to _____.

Many people learned to do new things during the pandemic, like cooking new dishes. I learned _____.

Even though the pandemic time has been stressful, sometimes things were still funny. I remember laughing when

_____.

I learned some new things about my family, like

I learned something new about myself too, that

If I had to describe 2020 in one word, it would be _____.

The most important thing I learned from the pandemic in 2020 is

In 2021, I look forward to _____.

When I look at these memories in a few years, I predict that my reaction will be
